SKOKIE COUNTRY CLUB, GLEN-OE. Ill., July 15 (By The Associated ress) .- Gene Sarazen, of Pittsburgh, little twenty-one-year-old native-orn American of Italian descent, toay pushed his way out in front of the world's greatest golfers, many of them id enough to be his father, and won ld enough to be his father, and won hopelessly out of the running, finishing well down the list.

Sarazen's victory came in typical American fashion, for he was hardly considered even a possibility at the that of to-day's play, and had to fight his way through from a place in the rear. He did it with an exhibition of fulf that has seldom been approached even in a titular contest, for his final eighteen holes were made in 35-35-36, two strokes under par, and one of the only two scores to break par in the two days of play. This 65 equaled the rourse record in competition and tied Magen's low mark of yesterday.

Result is Long in Doubt

When Sarazen turned in his card it caned reasonably sure that he would the winner, but the championship rown did not settle firmly to his head thi many hours later, for out on the many hours later, for out on the rid's heat shooters, striving to cut a toke off the 288 mark and snatch the didry out of Sarazen's hands.

First, Bobby Jones threatened the itsburgh player, for Bobby had a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning, a 36 on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning as a so the ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning as a so on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning as a so on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning as a so on the first ternoon round and needed only a par in the morning as a so on the first ternoon round and needed only a pa when a 33 against par 34 was report-for Black's first afternoon round-eaning that he could shoot 38 on the meaning that he could shoot 38 on the car 36 final nine and tie Sarazen—it began to look as if the Pittsburgh player was right in being modest. But Black, forty-four years old, Southern, Northern and Central California cham-pion, low yesterday with 142, and re-puted to be at his best when under fire, failed in the pinch where the little fellow from Pennsylvania had improved in the crises.

when the Californiaman put himself ut of the running at the seventy-first newspaperman rushed to the locker om and told Sarazen he had won. He jumped from the bench, turned a andspring and let out a yell. A few moments later he was carried out on he shoulders of some of the thousands ho gathered round and gave cheer fiter cheer.

Reaching down in his pocket, Sarazen pulled out a roll and took off $150 in merican money.

"This is for the kid who helped men," he said, and handed it to his caddy.

Black's collapse was truly hearthreaking to his admirers. The silent form in his afternoon nine, after rather indifferent play in the morning. He played six of the first seven holes in the afternoon in par and had a birdie on the other. Then he placed a 190-yard midiron approach three feet from the pin on the eighth green—the twenty-sixth in the day's play—and sank a birdie 3.

The short twenty-seventh brought trouble, for Black sent his tee shot into the sandpit at the left and barely nitched on for his second. Two putts made it 1 over par 3, but he was still 1 under for the nine.
